

INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXAM 3
EN 585.601 - Physiology for Applied Biomedical Engineering
Material Covered: Weeks 11 - 14
Exam Administered During: Week 14

1. The exam will become available to you at 00:00 hours on Thursday of Week 14. The completed exam is due back (uploaded to Blackboard) by 23:59 hours on the following Monday (Day 7 of Module 14)., if any,
2. To access the exam log in to the course Blackboard site, go to Course Modules (left side of Home screen) ► Exams (at bottom of Module list) ► Exam 3.
3. When you click on Exam 3 you will get a screen of instructions. Do NOT click on Continue until you are ready to start taking the exam.
4. When you are ready to take the exam (you have a clear 2 hour time slot to work in) click Continue; the exam will open.
5. For Questions 1 - 16 (A, B, C, D type questions¹; worth 4 points each) click the bubble next to your choice of answer. You will be able to scroll up and down within the exam; you may answer questions 1 - 16 in any order; you can change your answers at any time BEFORE you submit the exam. These questions will be graded by Blackboard.
6. Question 17 will require you to click on (and download) a pdf containing questions 17 - 22²; do it. Leave the exam open while you answer questions 17 - 22 (questions 17 - 20 are worth 4 points each; questions 21 and 22 are worth 10 points each).
7. Your text responses to questions 17 - 22 must be typed. If you choose to include Figures in your responses they may be pasted in; Figures may be copied from published sources (if so, you must provide an adequate citation) or neatly hand-drawn and labeled³. Calculations, if any, must (also) be typewritten. If you print out the exam pdf you can complete it, then scan it into your computer as a pdf. The end result is that you will have to upload the completed pdf⁴ file to Blackboard as instructed. I (or a TA) will grade these questions.
8. Once you have uploaded the completed part 2 of the exam (questions 17 - 22) you need to click on Save and Submit; once you do that you are finished with the exam.

NOTE: do not upload a .doc or a .docx or a .anything else file (for the completed Part 2 of your exam) to Blackboard - upload only a .pdf file.

¹ These will be similar in style, content, and degree of difficulty to the homework.

² These will be similar in style, content, and degree of difficulty to previous problems in which you had to calculate things, draw a Figure, or write a text explanation of something.

³ Anything hand-written MUST be legible - if I can't read it it is wrong by definition (mine).

⁴ If you use a word processor (Word, Pages, etc.) to write your responses to any or all of questions 17 - 22 please convert the resulting file to a pdf file, then upload the pdf file to Blackboard.
